MR. AND MRS. E. LARKINS were presented with an award for bravery on behalf of their son who lost his life saving a girl swimmer. Air Commodore H. H. C. Rutledge of Winnipeg made the presentation in Barrhead.

Barrhead Parents Receive Award For Son Who Lost Life Saving Girl

Cadet Award for Bravery was posthumously awarded to Air Cadet Stuart Larkins at a ceremony in Barrhead in recognition of his brave act, during which he lost his life, in saving Miss Carol Bassani from drowning in the Paddle River, one mile from Barrhead, on May 19, 1958. The award was presented by Air Commodore H. H. C. Rutledge, Group Commander, 14 Training Group, Winnipeg, on behalf of the Chief of the Air Staff. Cadet Larkins parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Larkins, received the awrd.

This was the fourth time that the Cadet Award for Bravery has been presented to an Air Cadet and is the second time the award has been presented posthumously.

The accident occurred when Miss Bassani, with three other teenagers, were swinging over the banks of the Paddle River on a rope. Miss Bassani lost her grip and fell into the icy, fast flowing current. Cadet Larkins unhesitatingly plunged into the river and was successful in aiding Miss Bassani to the river's bank, where she was pulled to safety. However, Cadet Larkins had so expended himself that he could no longer fight the icy current, and he was drowned.

In recognition of his brave act, The Royal Humane Society's Medal For Bravery was posthumously awarded on Nov. 23/58 by Mayor Charles Yuill, of Barrhead.

Also attending the ceremony were W. E. Ross, Calgary, Provincial Chairman of the Air Cadet League of Canada; Mr. R. Wilkin, Edmonton, Provincial Northern Vice-Chairman of the Air Cadet League of Canada; Flight Lieutenant L. Poissant, Air Cadet Liaison Officer for Alberta; and Flight Lieutenant P. Charlesworth, executive assistant to the RCAF 14 Training Group Commander.

Cadet Stuart Larkins was an active Leading Aircraftman in 526 Royal Canadian Air Cadet Barrhead Squadron.

Correction Regarding County Vote

OIL SANDS COMMITTEE NAMED

Dr. G. W. Govier, a member of Alberta's oil and gas conservation board, will head a committee of technical personnel which will be concerned with public safety in connection with the proposed nuclear tests in the Athabasca tar sands.

Premier Manning said that J. W. Grant MacEwan, leader of the opposition in the legislature, would sit on the committee.

The appointment of an Opposition party member was suggested in the legislature last week by J. Harper Prowse (L—Edmonton) as a measure to prevent the proposed nuclear tests becoming a "political football."

Richfield hopes to carry out the first experimental explosion 1,400 feet below the ground next winter.

WI Library Opens Two Days A Week

The lower school grades will be asked to come on Thursday afternoons, with the Dr. Swift school taking Friday as usual. Adults will be welcome both Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Creamery Now Sells Homogenized Milk

LAC LA BICHE — Beginning March 1, the Lac la Biche Creamery is offering homogenized milk to its customers as well as the usual pasteurized milk. The new product will sell at a slightly higher price than the pasteurized variety.

Health Through Chiropractic

By DR. K. W. TENOVE

Many patients express surprise that Chiropractic is effective in so many different diseases when the same methods are used in all cases. They seem to feel that different diseases should require different methods of treatment. Expressions commonly heard run something like this—"I don't see how an adjustment of the spine can cure stomache disorders, or constipation, or migraine headaches. What has the spine to do with such things?"

The answer is simple. The nervous system—brain, spinal cord and nerves—controls the function of every gland, muscle and tissue cell in the body. It receives impressions via touch, taste, smell, hearing, and sight and transmits these impressions to the brain for interpretation. The brain, in turn, sends back the correct impulses to keep the body balanced securely in good health.

So long as these impulses can travel freely both ways throughout the entire nervous system entire body functions perfectly—and a perfectly functioning body is of necessity for a healthy body. If a misaligned vertebra in spine should interfere with the flow of these impulses over the nerves, then some part or parts of the body will cease to function properly, and disease will begin.

For example, if the nerves supplying the large intestine are partially blocked there will be partial constipation. If they are completelp blocked there wil be total constipation.

The Chiropractor's task with every patient is to locate the point of interference to the nerves and by an adjustment of the spine, remove that interference. When all the nerves are freed the entire nervous system wil once again function normally, and a return to good health will follow naturally.

All great principles are essentially simple, and so it is with Chiropractic.

No matter what your ailment may be, see your Chiropractor. Remember, what Chiropractic has done for others it can do for you.

Redwater Storekeeper Knits Afghans, Siwash Sweaters For Fun And Profit

By Ken Larson

The womanly art of knitting is a profitable, prize-winning pastime for Miss G. B. Vickers who operates a variety store in Redwater. Her siwash sweaters are proudly worn by town curlers who praise her imaginative designs, a gift that has won her national-wide acclaim.

Still making the rounds of the handicraft divisions at provincial fairs is an afghan which picked off first prize for Alberta entries in a Toronto Star Weekly contest back in 1957. Miss Vickers spent three months knitting original designs into the many squares, using Canadian themes such as beaver, totem poles, ducks, hunters, church scenes, grain elevators and so on.

The afghan picked off the $50 prize and then captured first prize elsewhere in the dominion, including Edmonton and last year the Pacific National Exhibition at Vancouver.

SEWING TALK

Miss Vickers' knitting prowess is well known to Redwater housewives who frequently visit her variety store for advice or patterns or sewing materials which sell briskly especially during winter months.

Letters from persons whom Miss Vickers has never met often include orders for Siwash sweaters or ask for instructions on how to make one—not only from other provinces but from the U.S. too. She expects to fill an order from a Washington state resident who is over six feet tall and weighs over 260 pounds. "That'll be a lot of sweater," she mused as she read the letter.

Redwater curling president Ken Sharratt could be described as a walking advertisement for Miss Vickers product. He has a beautiful Siwash with navy blue and light blue curling rocks designed on a white background and, of course, crossed curling brooms prominently displayed on the sweater's back. For wool and labor Miss Vickers charged only $27. Hand-knitted sweaters in Edmonton stores start at $35.

LOVES COLOR

Miss Vickers, who loves colors and has a yen to one day try oil painting, knits Siwash sweaters for the whole family and sometimes has orders for five at a time. Children's sweaters have such designs as cute lambs, and one for about a three-year-old, for example, would cost about $5.

Crrochet and embroidery are also works of art under her skillful fingers and when her hands tire from holding the heavy wool sweaters, the lighter materials are a welcome change.

Miss Vickers enjoys knitting because she finds it stimulating, and to prove she is willing to meet the challenge she once put a jigsaw puzzle together to get a pattern for a duck design.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

A TOUCH OF HEAVEN

The Lord wants us to have many of the wonderful things of heaven while we walk this narrow vale called the earth.

In reality, don't both heaven and hell have their beginnings on this earth? Doesn't hell begin here? Doesn't heaven begin here? Isn't it true that some people feel they are living in hell right now? And aren't there people who feel they are living in heaven right now?

It is wonderful to think about heaven when we realize that heaven begins right here on earth.

Do miracles have to be performed in heaven, or may we expect miracles to be performed down here?

Often we are asked that, and it is like asking, "Is God good only in heaven?"

Can anyone think of a single need in heaven? Can anyone explain why a miracle would ever be needed in heaven? Is Paul there now asking Jesus to give him a miracle?

In heaven there is no need, for all need is already supplied. It is on earth that need exists.

Actually, what do we expect God to do in heaven that we don't expect him to do on earth? We expect him to save our souls completely, but we expect it here before we enter heaven. In fact, we will never get to heaven if the miracle of salvation isn't performed for us on earth.

We expect God to heal our bodies when we get to heaven, but there we shall have perfect, resurrected bodies which will not need healing. It is now that our bodies need healing. We need to ask for healing here. Isn't that right?

When we get to heaven we shall not need to ask God for a miracle to change our circumstances, for there we shall not need a change of circumstances. Everything will be perfect always. It is down here that our circumstances need changing. It is upon this earth that we must make miracles take place.

Christ, who came to show us what God is like, did not say that we should wait until we get to heaven before asking for miracles. He performed miracles wherever he went, and he is still doing so today in response to the prayer of faith. Christ brought heaven within reach of the earth.

In the Book of Psalms it is written, "They that seek the Lord shall not lack any good thing." Isn't that bringing to earth a touch of heaven? Isn't that the beginning of heaven itself?

Grassland Bonspiel

Our bonspiel is over.
Man, what a chore!
But we did have fun,
Let's have some more.

Athabasca, Boyle,
Lac la Biche, too,
Colinton, Wandering River
And Jarvie came through.

First in the Grand
Came Connery with his girls;
Second was Coutney,
They were in a whirl.

Third was Dave Hunter
(I think 'twas the supper).
And our own Mike Homeniuk
Got fourth—what a whopper!

Harryniuk from Boyle
Got first in the merchants;
Grassland came second
With Wilfrid Johnson;

Third went to Danyluk,
That's not so bad;
Dave Heatherington got fourth,
Boy! was he glad.

Konowalchuk from Lac la Biche
Took the last event.
Bentler from Boyle
Got second content.

Walter Corse from Grassland
Got something, too;
Jim Bentler from Jarvie
Got fourth with no "Boos."

It's all over folks,
The weather was hot,
But you all did throw
Some real good rocks.

We thank you all,
And hope you'll call
At Bonspiel time,
Don't stay behind.

We razzed a bit,
But this is it.
We thought you'd like
Our Grassland site.

'Twas our first try,
Don't say Goodbye;
We did our best,
You did the rest.

Please come next year
On that high gear,
And try to curl
Those GRASSLAND GIRLS.

—Mrs. D. Mellott.

Lac la Biche Junior Boys' Hockey League Nearing End Of Schedule

With two weeks remaining in the regular schedule of the Lac la Biche Junior Boys' Hockey League, it looks like a race to the finish line with four teams in contention. Atop the pack with 24 points are Dee Graham's Bruins with 11 victories, 2 ties and three losses.

One reason for the Bruin supremacy is high scoring Clarence Thom, currently leading the league with 32 goals. In 15 games between the posts Bruin goalie, the league's hottest, has allowed only nine goals. He is Willie Pruden who well deserves high position in the first spot amongst the goal tenders.

Tied for second spot in the standings are Frank Nashim's Canadiens and Garry Badry's Hawks, each with 9 victories, 4 losses and 3 ties. Garry Badry's Hawks owe much for their rise from the cellar to Ernest Thom, 2nd in the league scoring race with 27 goals. Fourth place is occupied in the league standings by Kenny Nykolaichuk's Rangers with 17 points. After an early lead Rangers have of late been slowing down with only one tie in their last five games. The cellar is occupied by Jamel Abougoush's Leafs with 7 points and Keith Calvert's Wings with 6 points. Despite their low position in the standings these two teams are always out there trying. This is typical of the good sportsmanship which prevails in the League. A much-improved goalie of recent games is Kenny Rizzoli, who is developing a fine form. Pint-sized Kamel Abougoush continues to be one of the best performers in the loop, checking players over twice his size and frequently coming away with the puck. David Schriver is another player who gives everything he has every minute he is on the ice.

With only 12 games to be played League Secretary, The Rev. R. S. H. Greene, announced that playoffs would begin in the week of Monday, March 16. It would be a best of three series between the two top teams. However if the third and fourth or the third team only were within 4 points of the winning team at the close of the regular season they too would earn a right to enter the play-offs. In this latter event it would be necessary to have some sudden death games. This of course will not be known until the final week, so close is the play-off race. Following is a list of the remaining games:

Wednesday, March 4
4:00 p.m.—Canadiens vs. Rangers
4:40 p.m.—Wings vs. Leafs
5:20 p.m.—Bruins vs. Hawks

Saturday, March 7
10:00 a.m.—Bruins vs. Leafs
10:40 a.m.—Hawks vs. Rangers
11:20 a.m.—Wings vs. Canadiens

Wednesday, March 11
4:00 p.m.—Bruins vs. Rangers
4:40 p.m.—Canadiens vs. Leafs
5:20 p.m.—Hawks vs. Wings

Saturday, March 14
10:00 a.m.—Hawks vs. Canadiens
10:40 a.m.—Bruins vs. Wings
11:20 Rangers vs. Leafs

In the referee department faithful work is being carried out in a most efficient manner by Jimmie and Gordie McCormick, Orville Franchuk and Donald Chester. In the absence of these regulars Richard Likochinsky took care of last Saturday's games. Mr. Greene in commenting on the refereeing said that it is better this year than in any year in the past, paying high tribute to the boys who are looking after this officiating. With the timing and other organizational matters Victor Michetti has rendered valuable assistance to the league secretary. Rink Superintendent George Blair has provided excellent ice conditions despite the recent break in the weather.

WHY MARRIAGES BREAK UP

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Member, Division of Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

PART 5

in the series "How to Get Along With People"

I read that one marriage in three ends up in the divorce courts, and, as a physician, I know that another one in three is so shaky it could easily end up there. Perhaps both husband and wife have lost what little love they started with, and perhaps they are now living like a brother and sister, without any sign of affection between them.

Many a man and wife are just keeping up appearances, or are keeping up a home for their children; some even hate each other; some, without children, are living together largely because they haven't initiative enough to separate, or because the man cannot afford to maintain two establishments, or because one mate is sorry for the other and feels responsibility.

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez

A wife will fear that if she leaves her husband, he will lose his job and degenerate perhaps because of his tendency to alcoholism, and a husband may feel that his responsibility for a mildly psychotic wife can never be terminated. Sometimes the man or the woman is in love with someone else but fears to leave because the spouse would suffer terribly and go to pieces nervously; as the Irish say, "one shouldn't heal one's wound with someone else's blood."

The Rev. Oliver M. Butterfield, Director of the Family Guidance Service in New York City, used to say that an appalling number of husbands and wives are not so much married as "un-divorced". This is a much-needed word. As a physician, I have known hundreds of persons who were spiritually, mentally, and physically divorced, but not legally separated.

Perhaps because marriage means more to a woman than to a man the physician finds more women than men complaining of an unsatisfactory or unhappy mating. So commonly, when I learn that a woman's neurosis is associated with her desire for a divorce, and her inability to decide to get it, I point to an imaginary button on my desk and say, "Press that and you'll be back from Reno with your little decree in your hand." So far, I have rarely gotten a woman to press my imaginary button!

Then I go on to make her face the fact that if she is never going to get the divorce—if perhaps the difficulties in the way are almost insuperable—she had better quit talking about a separation and had better settle down to make her home a happier place

BAD HABITS GO ON

Many a time when I have had a neurotic man or woman in the office talking of divorce and re-marriage, I have had to say, "Keep in mind that unless next time you get for your mate a very sensible and mature person, the same weaknesses in your character and the same bad habits which wrecked this marriage will wreck the next one". Often, later, I am sorry to hear that my prophecy was correct.

In 1950, David G. Wittles and Professor Goode listed the reasons given for 425 divorces. The commonest cause they found was the one I usually have found in my practice — namely, emotional immaturity and childishness in either one or both of the spouses. These people did not always behave as grown-ups should.

As a result of their childish behavior they lost the other person's respect, and when respect was gone, love soon went. Often as I try to help a neurotic woman whose marriage is breaking up, I have to beg her to behave better so as not to lose all of her husband's respect.

The second cause for marriage failure listed by Wittles and Goode was the fact that, today, women can so easily get out of marriage. Fifty years ago, with few jobs available for them, most women when unhappy in a marriage felt compelled to stay in it for economic reasons. Now that most intelligent women can get a job and even earn enough to bring up a child or two, thousands are leaving an unloved husband and going out on their own.

WIFE MADE MORE MONEY

Several times during World War II, a taxi-driver, telling me his troubles, said that his wife had left him because as a "lady welder" she could make more money than he. As soon as she was financially independent, she did as she pleased, and he no longer had any control over her. When he complained about her failure to come home and prepare his supper, she said, "What are you going to do about it?" In some cases, the woman even walked out and left the unfortunate husband to take care of the children!

Another cause of divorce which other investigators have put at the top of the list is insufficient income. Quarreling about money wrecks many a marriage. Sometimes, the wife is inclined to spend more than the couple can afford, but in other cases, as she struggles to make ends meet with her small amount of housekeeping money, she becomes very resentful when the husband buys himself a custom-built shotgun or an expensive camera that he does not need.

Professor Goode placed infidelity last as a cause of broken homes because he agreed with many other students of marriage who have found that infidelity is not so much a cause of a break-up as a sign that love has long since departed.

Alcoholism might well have been put high on the list of causes for divorce. If it doesn't actually break up the marriage, it causes endless unhappiness for the spouse.

WHY WOMEN MARRY

According to E. Duvall and R. Hill, in "When You Marry," when 400 young women were asked by a poll-taker why they had married, most said, "for companionship." The second largest group said, "for a home of my own."

Many were tired of office work or school - teaching; some were frantic to get away from a domineering mother; a few wanted a sexual life; many wanted security; and many wanted to escape from loneliness. A few wanted children.

Many wanted to get married at a time when their friends were all marrying. They wanted to put a "Mrs." before their name. Some felt ashamed to be "left on the shelf."

And this is significant: few wanted love. Doubtless one reason for the breaking up of many marriages is that they began without love.

Tomorrow: How to Keep Love Growing.

FIFTY YEARS AGO J. A. D. McCurdy flew his Silver Dart (inset) at Baddeck, N.S., marking the first powered flight in Canada. Since that histroic event, development in aviation has taken tremendous strides. Another milestone will be reached this year when Trans-Canada Air Lines takes delivery of the first of its six huge DC-8 Jetliners which will fly at 550 miles an hour and carry 127 passengers. Last week the 50th anniversary of powered flight was celebrated in Canada.

Plans For Delegation Finalized

Response to the Western farmer's move to send a mass delegation to Ottawa seeking deficiency payments on grain marketed in the past three years has been greater than anticipated. As plans reached their final stages, the problem is to keep the delegation down to a level that can be accommodated in Ottawa. Between 800 and 900 prairie farmers will make the trip. Saskatchewan, where sufficient funds had been collected to send 750, has trimmed the size of their delegation down to 625 to leave room for the other provinces. In Alberta, the delegation has been cut down to 160.

Those from Alberta will leave Calgary and Edmonton on the evening of March 6 in special cars provided by the railways. These will be hooked onto two special trains each leaving at Regina and Saskatoon on March 7 and scheduled to arrive in Ottawa in the morning of March 9. That afternoon the group will meet to finalize the brief. The next morning the delegation will meet with Prime Minister Diefenbaker and the federal cabinet and present a strongly worded brief together with a petition bearing over 250,000 signature. For the afternoon, Prime Minister Diefenbaker and the wheat committee of the cabinet have been invited to meet with the group and outline the governments long-range plan for agriculture. After visiting with their MP's, delegates will leave for home Wednesday afternoon, March 10.

The FUA, under the direction of President Ed Nelson is making final arrangements for Alberta members of the delegation.

To acquaint people of Eastern Canada with the purpose of the march and the need for deficiency payments, an extensive publicity campaign is planned for the East. Special radio and television programs have been arranged, ads will be carried in the large Eastern daily and farm newspapers and a good news coverage is assured.

Another Chat with Sally

Dear Friends & Neighbors:

Remember last week I told you Elna wanted to hear about your sewing problems. Well, I received a letter from Mrs. M. of St. Paul who wanted to know how to eliminate the guess work in enlarging a pattern which was too small. Well, there are two ways to do this; the first would be to put the pattern away and go on a diet until you had lost sufficient weight. But if you want to wear it for Easter here is the best way. Get yourself a couple of sheets of red or green tissue paper and cut into 3 or 4-inch strips, place these strips under the edges of the pattern, now for each size larger required allow ½ inch. When required size has been determined by measuring, secure the strips to the pattern by use of cellophane tape. Simple,, eh!

Talking of reducing, do you ever wonder how many calories there are in the food you eat every day? I just received a very useful calory chart which is the most complete one I have yet seen. We have run off a number of copies so if you would like one just send a stamp addressed envelope to "Sally," c/o Elna So. Edmonton Sewing Center, 10332-82 Ave., Edmonton, Alberta.

'Bye for now,

SALLY.

16 District Men Win Save Soil Awards

Four hundred persons looked on as Arthur E. Hennig of Golden Spike was presented with the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce Challenge trophy for 1958 for the greatest improvement in soil conservation.

Mr. Hennig was among 15 others who received awards as a result of the Save the Soil campaign sponsored by the chamber and the Alberta department of agriculture.

Presenting certificates at the 16th annual agricultural and home economics short course was W. A. Lobay, supervisor of soil and weed control, of the department's field crops branch.

Certificates were presented to: R. G. Scheers, Ardrossan; Martin Krupa, Edmonton; and D. H. Swanek, for municipal district of Strathcona; Melvin Wagner, Stony Plain; Richard J. Keltie, Spruce and H. F. Rowe. and Henry Kaiser, both of Duffield, for municipal district of Stony Plain; and Ernest Charbonneau and Clarence Visser, both of RR6 Edmonton, Bill Gibbons, Gibbons, and G. Y. Wojtkiw, Morinville, for the municipal district of Sturgeon River.

Municipal district award winners are: Strathcona, C. E. Osbaldeston, Fort Saskatchewan; Stony Plain, R. H. Gardner, Sundance, and for Sturgeon River, M. Uchacz, Morinville.

The campaign, inaugurated 12 years ago, is designed to encourage farmers to get more benefit from their land through forage crop rotation, prevention of soil erosion, and weed control. Winners in the three municipal districts are chosen by district agriculturists in their areas.

During the sessi as a discussion on "Livestock fo the Family Farmer" was led by A. J. Charnetski, livestock supervisor for the government, followed by a panel discussion by C. Lentz, Hercules; S. Sweetnam, North Edmonton; W. Van Der Walle. Legal, and W. Ellett, Morinville.

Palamaruk Joins March On Ottawa

CRAIGEND — A recent meeting of the FUA, held in the Craigend School, was well attended. The local boasts a membership of almost 100.

At the Feb. 20 meeting it was decided that the local should send a delegate to the March on Ottawa. It was shown that a petition which had been circulated in the town of Lac la Biche, and among farmers throughout the area, had resulted in the sum of $75 being raised for this purpose. The meeting expressed its thanks to those who had given so generously to this cause.

William Palamaruk, the delegate chosen, will be on his way this week, along with some 600 other farmers who are going to Ottawa to see what can be done about deficiency payments on grain and livestock sold in the last three years. The meeting wished Mr. Palamaruk success on what was considered a very important mission.

Atmore

The canasta club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Matheson. Mrs. Roderick Baldwin took first, William Campbell took consolation prize.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schendzeilarz, Feb. 24 for Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fischer, who are departing for their new home in Keg River, Alta.

A coming home party was held here for Mr. and Mrs. James Heatherington, Feb. 23, at the Kanzig home.

Stanley Ballard was a business visitor to Lac la Biche this week.

Stanley Ballard, Margaret Heatherington and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Kanzig were Athabasca visitors last weekend.

It wasn't hard for a faishionable man to trip over his own feet during the Middle Ages. The World Book Encyclopedia says that one kind of a shoe had a pointed toe so long that a chain had to be used to hold it up so the wearer could walk.

Salahubs Honored On Anniversary

CRAIGEND — Feb. 14 a successful party was held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Salahub of Craigend on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, with about 200 persons in attendance.

Corsages were pinned on the bridal couple and their attendants by Joan, Victoria and Shirley. Then they advanced to a table set with a wedding cake and flowers. Grace was said by Rev. M. Stetzenko, and a toast was proposed by Mr. Lobay. An interesting talk was given by A. Chewdrok.

The ladies served a buffet supper for the guests, which was followed by dancing until 12 o'clock. Music was supplied by Turgeon's Orchestra.

A chesterfield was presented by the Salahub children and the guests presented the couple with a set of silverware, a set of dishes and a chesterfield chair. Many attractive personal gifts were received from friends and relatives.

Breakwater Wharf Now Completed

LAC LA BICHE — The new breakwater wharf was completed Thursday, Feb. 26. Quam Construction Co. of Red Deer, who had the contract, were busy loading equipment ready to move back to Red Deer, late Thursday evening.

Although the day the work was completed was warm and spring-like, the crew worked through many severely cold days during the past few months as the old wharf was demolished and the new structure took shape.

The Nanton Street wharf was rebuilt in 1957 so there should be no need of any further work of this kind for many years.

Doris was a former student at Birch Lake and Ashmont and completed her High School at Jasper Place High School. She is now enrolled in the Faculty of Education at the University of Alberta.
